

MARVEL CUSTOM SERIES MELTS ULTIMATE LUXURY WITH DESIRED CONVENIENCE
Customized Refrigeration Provides Homeowners With Doubled Capacity and Expanded Design Possibilities

RICHMOND, Ind., Feb. 9, 2005—Many homeowners want kitchen refrigeration convenience and capacity in their den, living room, family room or office but wouldn't dream of incorporating a cumbersome kitchen refrigerator into the integrity of the room's design. Now it's possible for these homeowners to have the desired refrigeration convenience and expanded interior design possibilities with the Custom Series from MARVEL. This dual-zone refrigeration system allows homeowners to customize the upper and lower sections to meet their unique refrigeration needs. Whether it's for wine and beverage storage or additional refrigerator and freezer space, the Custom Series provides the convenience, capacity and choice desired by today's homeowners.

At first glance the Custom Series resembles MARVEL's renowned undercounter refrigeration models sitting atop one another. However, the Custom Series is actually a single unit, combining two separate models, custom-made to fit vertically into the cabinetry of any room. With tempered glass doors showing off the stunning ebony interiors (solid doors are available on some models), there is no need to subject a room to glaring "appliance white." Homeowners can choose the upper-and-lower combination that best suits their individual needs. This is especially convenient for those wanting a dual-zone refrigeration system because the temperature for each model can be set independently, and MARVEL's microprocessor controlled thermostats will precisely maintain both. A sleek digital display (LED) shows each section's internal temperature at a glance.

The models available for configuration in the Custom Series include the MARVEL® Wine Grotto™ wine cellar, which holds up to 50 bottles; the popular 6BAR beverage refrigerator, which combines wine and beverage storage; the classic 6IAR refrigerator and the 6IRF refrigerator and freezer combination, both of which come with a solid door. With high-efficiency, whisper-quiet compressors and forced-air ventilation, these models are built to provide years of superlative performance and are backed by MARVEL's ironclad warranty.

MARVEL is a leading manufacturer of luxury undercounter refrigeration products including wine cellars, beverage and wine refrigerators, outdoor refrigerators, ice machines, beer dispensers and more.
